Financial Assistance

Participants can apply for financial assistance to support their participation in the camp on the basis of financial need. Financial assistance will only be granted for those who register in the first registration period (from March 2nd to March 31st). Scouts can apply for a financial assistance in scout register Kuksa when registering for camp whereas non-scouts can apply through a form found on vasiki.fi.

Applications are confidential and treated by a grant committee which is independent of the camp committee and the Uusimaa scout district. The participant consents to sharing their information at registration.

Participants can apply for financial assistance for the share of the participation fee which exceeds the service charge. You can apply for a grant in two categories: 100 % or 50 %. The participant may be granted financial assistance for more or less than they have applied for. The grant committee will announce its decision directly to the participant and financial assistance will be directly applied to the invoice for the participation fee.

If a participant does not receive the financial assistance that they have applied for and is thus unable to participate, they should cancel their participation in two weeks after the decision.

Instances of sickness and accidents

In instances of sickness or accidents the participant will be invoiced for the participation fee, but they will be able to claim reimbursement from their own insurance company or alternatively through scout insurance (<https://scouts.fi/contact-information/scout-insurance/>). In such cases, the participant should be in direct contact with the insurance company. This applies to cases where the participant has become ill during or before the camp.

Leaving camp early in non-sickness related cases

Leaving camp early means that a participant has been forced to leave the camp earlier than planned due to a decision made by the participant, a doctor, or the camp organizer.

There can be multiple reasons for the participant to leave early such as personal reasons, inappropriate behavior, possession of alcohol or drugs, or other non-compliance of camp rules. In these cases, the participant or their guardian must organize and pay their transportation from camp.

For underaged participants, a guardian is always notified in such instances.

In instances described above and the instances similar to these, the participation fee is not refunded.

Coronavirus and the COVID-19 pandemic

For reasons that are directly or indirectly related to the coronavirus or preventing the spread of the virus, Espoon Partiotuki ry reserves the right at their discretion to (i) change the event (including its content, the format, dates, length, and place) as well as (ii) cancel the event. Additionally, if it is not possible, within reasonable limits, for the event to be changed or moved, or it is not appropriate or safe to do so due to the ongoing pandemic, the scout district reserves the right to cancel the event. If the event is cancelled, cut short, or the dates are changed such that the participant is no longer available, the participant will be refunded for the part of the participation fee which exceeds the service charge, and any part that has been paid forward in order to organize the event and is not refundable by the creditor or, ultimately, from the insurance company. The deductible payment is maximum 15 euros. The participant will always have to chance to demand for a refund from the body to which the payments have been credited to.
